OUR OPINION

A typical European “grand hotel” with marble, elegant furnishing and a classy ambiance throughout. The triangular shaped building encompasses a garden with a swimming pool, quite unusual for a city hotel, which creates the feeling of a small paradise. The design of the rooms and bathrooms are traditional but stylish and nicely decorated. The hotel is near the Temple of Zeus, and within walking distance of all the major sites and places of interest in the city. All of these sites can be viewed from the hotel's beautiful rooftop terrace, where breakfast is served. In the winter, the terrace is shielded by sliding glass doors which provide shelter from the weather, whilst maintaining the exceptional panorama.
